Tri-State Megabucks offers riches Sept. 3rd

Tri-State Megabucks, the first multiple-state lottery in the United States, kicks off Sept. 3, when tickets will go on sale at 640 locations in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

The first drawing for a Tri-State Megabucks jackpot will be held Saturday, Sept. 14, and broadcast on WMTW.

The Tri-State game requires players to pick six numbers, which are immediately relayed, via a computer hook-up, to lottery headquarters in Augusta. The player receives a computer printout of his numbers.

The Tri-State Megabucks will be run by Scientific Games, Inc., of Atlanta, Ga.

Organizers say there will likely be million dollar jackpots for the winners. This assumption is based, said a spokesman at a press conference held yesterday in Vermont, on the fact that residents in northern New England spend about $1.2 million each week on games in New York State and Massachusetts. If a week goes by with no winner, the amount of money that week

FABRIC EMPORIUM MARKS 5th ANNIVERSARY

Aline Crockett's Fabric Emporium, in Bethel, marked its fifth anniversary Aug. 8.

Started as a sewing, mending and alteration shop above The Spa (now RFD #1), Ms. Crockett's business expanded over the years and is now mainly concerned with custom drapes, curtains and window quilts.

Having doubled her inventory of materials last summer, and having added Simplicity patterns to her line, Ms. Crockett expects the second five years to show as much growth as the first.

Word of her custom fabric services is spreading, and she gets customers from Rumford, Lowell, Norway/South Paris, and Randolph and Berlin, N.H., as well as the Bethel area.

The change of ownership of the Main Street building her shop occupies will not cause any change in her place of business, she says. She already has a long-term lease with new owner Ginger Kelly.

Ms. Crockett has three children and lives in East Bethel.

Adult Education flyer to be sent to residents

The SAD #44 Adult and Community Education program will offer a full range of courses during the Fall 1985 semester, with a flyer describing specific program offerings to be mailed to SAD #44 residents during the week of Labor Day. Classes will start the week of Sept. 23 in most cases, and registrations will be taken by phone, mail or in person during the weeks intervening.

Director of Adult and Community Education, Cathy Newell, expressed satisfaction with the upcoming schedule, commenting, "People are even more willing than usual to share their knowledge and skills this fall. I expect an exciting term."

In addition to more than 60 courses and programs, the SAD #44 Adult and Community Education program is launching the Parenting Project, which will offer a parenting skills course in both Bethel

Bethel tourism booming in July

"The word is out that Bethel is desirable," says Ginger Kelly, of Maine Street Realty.

"The area has the tranquil, natural environment that tourists are seeking," says Stan Howe, of the Moses Mason House museum.

"We have provided a better value for the tourists than many of the traditional, developed summer areas," explains Dick Rasor of The Bethel Inn.

"There seems to be more awareness of the area through advertising and promotion," says Hugh Chapman of the Edelweiss Country Store.

A July business survey of the area, conducted by the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce, indicates that business is up in food, lodging and retail sales anywhere from 10 percent to 50 percent over the same period last year. The annual Mollyockett Day festival saw attendance reportedly triple, with the sponsoring Lion's Club having its best fund-raising day ever.

Inquiries to the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce have doubled this summer, and The Bethel Inn reports a 38 percent jump in the number of golfers on the picturesque 9-hole course.

Bethel continues to grow in tourist facilities this summer. Five new bed and breakfast establishments have opened, as well as new condominiums at the Bethel Opera House. A new attraction, the Bethel Area Steam Era Railroadiana Museum, featuring Grand Trunk Railway memorabilia, opened July 4th. A bakery and gift shop have opened in Bethel, and improvements have been made to nearly all existing businesses on Main Street.

The Bethel Inn will be constructing a conference center this fall, with groundbreaking expected next month. Sunday River Ski Resort is expanding, with two more chairlifts, snowmaking, new trails and 82 new condominiums. Mt. Abram Ski Slopes is installing snowmaking.

"The whole area is coming on strong," exclaims Joe Robiller, owner of The Boiler Room Restaurant and Lake Christopher Condominiums, in Bryant Pond.

Newry valuation for '86 expected to jump $1.6M

Figures were received by the Newry selectmen this week from the Bureau of Taxation on the proposed 1986 state valuation for Newry. The preliminary figure is $13,250,000—up from $11,650,000, for 1985.

Figures for other towns in SAD #44 (with 1985 figures in parentheses) are: Andover $38,200,000 (33,500,000); Bethel $45,950,000 ($43,350,000); Greenwood $19,850,000 ($19,100,000); Woodstock $23,600,000 ($22,300,000).

Warrants were signed by the selectmen Tuesday morning in the town office for holding a referendum to vote on the proposed construction of a new school building at Woodstock. Notices for holding a public hearing on the proposed new school were also signed. The referendum will be held Sept. 24, from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m. The public hearing will be held Sept. 10, at 7 p.m. Both will be held at the municipal building.

John O'Donnell Associates was contacted about bringing the town tax maps up to date. O'Donnell will pick up the tax maps and real estate transfers on Tuesday, Aug. 27.

The selectmen have received notice from the state Bureau of Taxation that no mobile home shall be moved over the highways of the state unless the operator of the vehicle hauling the mobile home has in his possession a written certificate from the tax collector of the municipality where the mobile home was situated, identifying the mobile home and certifying that all property taxes have been paid, or that the mobile home is exempt from taxes. The tax year for this purpose shall be the period from April 1 to March 31.

The next meeting of the selectmen will be Aug. 27, at 9 a.m. in the town office.

Local taxpayers favor defense cuts but no cuts in SS

In a poll conducted by Rep. Olympia Snowe's office, local taxpayers said they would be in favor of cutting the budget by freezing defense expenditures, but would be against any freeze on Social Security cost-of-living adjustments.

With over 6,000 responses, 71 percent of those responding said they would be against a budget freeze that held Social Security payments at current levels without increases for cost-of-living, despite the fact that such an overall freeze would save $38 billion on next year's federal budget.

On the other hand, 64 percent of the respondees said they would be in favor of a budget freeze that left Social Security alone but held military spending at current levels. The savings on such a move would amount to $32 billion, Rep. Snowe's office estimated.

Taxpayers indicated they were against most federal programs aimed at helping the less-affluent segments of society and also against most subsidy programs. By a majority of 68 percent, respondees were in favor of limiting eligibility for subsidized student loans and were in favor of other restrictions on federal student aid. The estimated savings would amount to $3 billion.

On the question of phasing out crop price supports and other farm subsidies and farm assistance programs, 70 percent of the respondees were in favor of such cutbacks, which would offer a budget savings of $6.6 billion.

Andover officials discuss cemetery

The Andover Board of Selectmen Tuesday night discussed problems of Woodlawn Cemetery with the sexton. "We have a slight problem down there," said Selectman Ray Hutchins. He said the selectmen have even contemplated doing away with the cemetery association.

Selectman Hutchins said the problems involve a lack of rules and regulations and not knowing where all the plots are.

The selectmen intend to map out all the plots in the cemetery. They will meet next Tuesday, at 4 p.m., at the cemetery, and invite all interested residents to join the discussion at that time.

Another problem—a personnel matter at the fire department—was resolved Tuesday night, Mr. Hutchins said.

THE SAD #44 SCHOOLBUSES are cleaned up and ready to roll for the Sept. 4 opening of classes. The man who gets credit for getting the buses spic and span is Roy Hart (left) of the Steam Mill, Bethel. Under the supervision of Sonny Blake (right), he got the district's 27 buses cleaned up and touched up. He got the summer position in the SAD #44 bus garage through a program of Mountain Valley Training, which also paid his salary. Roy finished at Telstar last spring and will be going to Grafton, Mass., for job corps training this fall.

THE NORTH POND SAILING ASSOCIATION held its final regatta of the season Sunday on Lake Christopher. The overall winner for the day was Dave Gilpatrick (left), of South Paris, who received a gift certificate for dinner for two, donated by The Boiler Room restaurant in Bryant Pond. Sailing off with the 1st-place trophy for the season in the Sunfish class was Sylvia Martin (right), of Bryant Pond. Bob Silvia (center), of Bolton, Mass., came in 2nd for the season. Rodney Cross, of Dixfield (not pictured), took 3rd place for the season. (Photo courtesy of Blaine Mills)

FACILITIES COMMITTEE OF HEALTH COUNCIL TO HOLD PUBLIC MEETING TONIGHT

The Facilities Committee of the Northern Oxford County Health and Service Council has scheduled a public meeting for Wednesday, Aug. 21, at 6 p.m. at the American Legion Hall on Vernon Street for the purpose of discussing the plans for the renovation of the former A&P for the new Bethel Area Health Center. All interested people are invited to attend. The purpose of the meeting is to present the building plans, a projected timetable for construction and to respond to any questions interested community residents may have regarding the Bethel Area Health Center building project.

Two seriously injured in West Sumner wreck

Two West Paris youngsters were still in Stephens Memorial Hospital yesterday, following an accident on the Shagg Pond Road, in West Sumner, Sunday afternoon.

Florence Bishop, 12, who was riding in the back of the pickup that crashed, was in stable condition yesterday, following abdominal surgery. Joseph Beauchesne, 14, who was riding in the cab of the truck, was in stable condition, under observation.

In all, there were six youngsters in the pickup, which went out of control and rolled over. The others, including the driver, 15-year-old Dennis Henderson, were all treated and released.

A seventh youth, Kevin Bishop, 15, riding a moped behind the truck, flipped his cycle while trying to avoid the crash. He was also treated and released at Stephens Memorial.

Earlier Sunday afternoon, at Newry Corner, a 1982 Plymouth Horizon, heading downhill on Rte. 2 preparatory to turning left onto Rte. 26, was plowed into by a 1972 AMC station wagon, also going downhill.

Megabucks not a windfall

In press conferences in Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire yesterday, lottery officials from the three states praised the imminent dawning of Tri-State Megabucks. The new game is supposed to provide money for the northern New England states—money that is now going to New York State and Massachusetts through their big jackpot games.

Maine Lottery Director Richard ("Spike") Carey told reporters in Augusta he expected Maine's annual lottery revenues to double, from the present $4.5 million, to $9 million with the added revenue from megabucks. (The revenues go into the general fund.)

While it's too early to tell if that will happen, what seems very clear is that the operator of the game, Scientific Games, Inc., of Atlanta, Ga., will certainly clean up. The publicist for the Maine commission told The Citizen the state's contract with Scientific Games, Inc., gives to the Georgia firm 4.5 percent of the gross generated in Maine.

This seems like a lot of money to give up—on top of the 50 percent given the winners and the 5 percent given the vendors.

For comparison sake, in Massachusetts, where the lottery commission itself is the operator, operating costs are only 2 percent of the gross, according to a Massachusetts Lottery Commission spokesman.

TRI-STATE MEGABUCKS

will be added to the following week's jackpot. Each play costs $1.

Of the total amount bet by players each week, 50 percent will be set aside for the winners. The jackpot winner must have all six of the numbers correctly. If you pick five of the six numbers correctly, you will win $100. Four of six wins $10. Three of six wins a free play.

So far, there are no local stores where players can play Tri-State Megabucks. The nearest agents are in Rumford and Norway.

Massachusetts Lottery Commission officials seemed unconcerned by the imminent debut of a competing megabucks game. In fact, a spokesman for the Massachusetts commission told The Citizen he expects the Tri-State Megabucks to help his state's game by getting people in the north country used to playing megabucks.

The spokesman further said that he thinks people from northern New England will be disappointed in the small jackpots in Tri-State Megabucks. "The drawback is they're not going to be able to generate the big jackpots." Last week, the Massachusetts Megabucks jackpot was $5.6 million. The largest Massachusetts jackpot was $14.6 million; the second-highest was $12.6 million, the spokesman said.

BETHEL SENIOR CITIZENS MET AT SOUTH PARIS AUG. 14

The Bethel Senior Citizens met Aug. 14 at the Country Way in South Paris with 48 members and one guest. The brief meeting followed a delicious smorgasbord.

President Irene Pike reminded the group of the 50th anniversary of Social Security and the importance of the National Council to protect the interests of senior citizens. There is a need for more Gold Card members and delegates to be sent to the National Convention.

The possibility of joining the Norway-Paris group for trips was discussed and approved.

The Western Maine Transportation bus system was brought up and the schedule will be printed in The Citizen and posted.

The next meeting will be at the Rumford Point Church on Wednesday, Sept. 11.

Celebrating birthdays this month were: Betty Blake, Esther Pierce, Olive Head, William Riley, Ernestine Riley, Irene Russell, Barbara Miller, and Mary Cole.

The door prize was awarded to Clara Rolfe and the afghan donated by Mildred Thomas for Mollyockett Day was received by Emily Saunders.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Have you ever been invited to a birthday party, but stayed home because you couldn't afford to buy a birthday gift?

The State of Texas is celebrating its 150th birthday in 1986, with a Wagon Train. My husband and I have been named as Maine State representatives at this celebration. We will join with many other wagons and 300-outriders, making a six-month, 2,800-mile-long circle in Texas.

But, we are caught between the proverbial "rock and a hard place." The State of Maine is unwilling to help us financially, although Governor Brennan's office assures us that if we raise enough money, and attend the party, the State will provide us with the use of the State flag.

Each one of the United States has been invited to send its representative to join the Texas Wagon Train—it would be a shame for Maine to be conspicuous by absence!

So, this letter is basically a call to action on the part of Maine citizens. We need many kinds of help, including repair and readying the wagon, putting together costumes, assembling Maine souvenirs or gifts, and, to facilitate everything,—money.

Anyone out there who can help in any way, please let us know. We will be glad to talk with you further, to show our credentials and to show you our beautiful teams of horses (with their new harnesses), who are working out daily in preparation for this trip.

FRESHMEN/NEW STUDENT ORIENTATION AT TELSTAR THURSDAY, AUG. 29

All incoming freshmen and new students enrolled this fall at Telstar Regional High School are encouraged to attend an orientation workshop on Thursday, Aug. 29, from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

The fourth annual Telstar orientation will consist of: introduction to high school administration and freshmen teachers: discussion of high school related activities, academic, social and personal issues; tours of the high school complex and course schedules will be issued.

Parents are also encouraged to attend this orientation program. Questions regarding this workshop may be referred to the Telstar Regional High School guidance counselor, Dan Hart, or to the principal, Ted Davis, at 824-2136.

Challenge '85

The temperature of the Bethel Area Health Center's fund-raising thermometer is fast reaching the "normal" point of 98.6. Community response has been excellent and it is felt that the goal is within reach.

For those interested in knowing more about the building project, there will be a public meeting tonight (Wednesday, Aug. 21) at the Legion Hall on Vernon Street.

Expressing support this week are: Alden and Mabel Kennett; Euphemia Hastings; Ernie and Kathleen Tremblay; Ruell "Bud" and Lois Leavitt; Charles and Betsy Raymond; Frances Clark; Mary and Edward Mills; Avery and Mary Angevine; Neil and Alberta Merrill; David Preble; Wilfred and Eleanor Conary; Otto and Kaye Blossey; James and Rosemary Word; Henry Detert; G.G. and Lucille Belisle; Herb and Ruth Kittredge; Paul Duclos; Robert and Annie True Crockett; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bailey; Henry and Thelma Dombkowski; DeeDee and Ben Kellogg; Edleen Winslow—Charlie's Place; Myers' Logging; Marjorie Cummings; Louise Richter; Minna Jacobs; Lillian C. Bartlett; Lee and Virginia Hutchins; Prim's Pharmacy; Edward Hastings; Bruce and Priscilla Landrigan.

Remember, the goal is $98,913. Let's keep up the good work.

Do you want a diploma?

It's never too late to obtain your high school diploma. Opportunities for adults to complete their high school education are available through local high schools in Oxford County, with all programs starting their fall terms in September.

SAD #44 Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell reports that the adult and community education programs in Rumford, Mexico, South Paris and Bethel continue to offer a range of options for adults who want to complete school.

Evening classes, characterized by small class size, individual attention from the instructor, and interesting topics, allow adults to obtain credits toward their diploma. Those who wish to prepare for the high school equivalency exam, or GED, may do so through evening preparation classes, or, in most programs, in day classes.

The external credit option program, which allows those who cannot attend evening classes and who are able to work independently to work on curriculum packets for credit, is available in Bethel and South Paris.

Those who are interested in becoming involved in adult high school completion should contact the adult and community education director in their school district. South Paris, Judy Green, 743-8842; Rumford, John Tapley, 364-4547; Mexico, Tony Lavorgna, 364-7926; Bethel area, Cathy Newell, 824-2780.

ART CENTER FEATURING WORK OF JAY ARTIST, AUG. 20-31

Dorothy Therrien of Jay, artist, businesswoman and mother of six children, is holding an exhibition of her paintings at the Lajos Matolcsy Art Center, Norway, from Aug. 20 to Aug. 31.

Mrs. Therrien has had a strong interest in art from childhood, being encouraged by her grade school teachers in Wilton. After marriage and raising a family she began her serious study in oil painting with Victor Anderson of Mt. Vernon. Next, she traveled to Brunswick for several years to study with the late Alicia Stonebreaker. Mrs. Therrien also attended art classes at the University of Maine at Augusta during the period and held children'e art classes in her home.

Later she attended weekly art classes in Norway under the instruction of the late Lajos Matolscy for whom the art center is named. She is now continuing her study with Lee Bean of South Paris, former associate instructor with Mr. Matolscy.

Mrs. Therrien has exhibited her work in Lewiston, Hallowell, Portland, Old Orchard, the U. of M. at Orono, and many state-wide shows, taking several prizes in the state shows.

She is an active member of the Western Maine Art Group.

Selfish individuals contribute very little toward a better world.

Rotary Club notes

The Bethel Rotary Club held its luncheon meeting at The Sudbury Inn yesterday. Visiting Rotarians and guests were: Bill Lowther, Boonton, N.J., Al Stausback and Gil Robinson, Wilmington, Del., Chas. Feld, Marco Island, Fla.

The much-discussed matter of changing the club meeting time was resolved by a vote of the membership. The vote supported the current luncheon meeting time, by a vote of 11-11, with one abstention. A ⅔ vote of those present was necessary to change the time to a dinner meeting.

The program chairman for this meeting was Scott Dennis. His speaker was Myron Pierce, of the Shriners, who talked about the care—free of charge—offered young orthopedic and burn patients at Shriners hospitals. His talk was highlighted by an excellent film documenting the case of a youngster burned on 85 percent of his body.

The support given by the Shriners organization, both in terms of time and money, has done much for the advancement of burn care. Not too long ago persons with burns over 65 percent of their bodies had a poor chance of survival. Today, victims with burns even over 90-95 percent of their bodies have survived. The program was much enjoyed by Rotarians.

THE LEMONADE BUSINESS was brisk last Friday on Main Street, Bethel, with Jarrod Crockett and Jennifer Stowell handling the work. As the money rolled in, Jennifer said, "We're gonna buy a 4-wheeler." The two siblings estimate the cost at $1,500. But Jarrod said brightly, "We've got 150 already." The nest egg was not all from lemonade, he added.

SMITH REUNION HELD AUG. 4th

Fryeburg Fairgrounds was the site for the descendants of Simon and Maryann (McKeen) Smith's (late of Stow, Maine) fourth annual reunion on Aug. 4. Over 130 relatives gathered from Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Florida.

A short business meeting was conducted, with Wilfred Smith, of Fryeburg, presiding. Prizes were given to the oldest in attendance—Ada Harriman, of Fryeburg; the youngest—Kyle Gunnar Larsen, of Gloucester, Mass.; and farthest traveled—Janice (Smith) Hanson, of Tampa, Fla.

A committee was selected for the planning of next year's reunion. They are Nelson Smith, Bethel; Karl Smith, Rumford; Roger Smith, Stow; Miriam Eastman, Fryeburg; and secretary-treasurer, Barbara Eastman, Chatham, N.H.

In the afternoon, the relatives were very pleasurably entertained by Ernest Smith, of Fryeburg, Roger Smith and family, of Stow, Louise Locke and family, of Conway, and Evelyn Chaplin, of Fryeburg. A tape was played of the late Simon, Jr., playing the accordion. It was so good to hear the old songs and music I remember my grandmother singing. Many thanks.

Next year's reunion will be the first Sunday of August (Aug. 3), and unless otherwise notified, will be held at the fairgrounds.

Families who wish to be notified please send your mailing address to Barbara Eastman, HCR Box 242, Center Conway, N.H. 03813. — Submitted by Barbara Eastman

REP. MILLS ATTENDS SEATTLE CONFERENCE

Rep. Jeff Mills attended the National Conference of State Legislatures in Seattle this month as part of the Maine delegation, representing the Low Level Nuclear Waste Siting Commision. Members of the Maine Siting Commission had the opportunity to visit the low level nuclear waste storage facility at Hanford, Wash., a desert area which has a 40-year nuclear history, dating back to the Manhattan Project in the 1940's. Low level waste from Maine Yankee is currently sent to the Hanford low level facility for disposal.

Mills attended presentations on the proposal for development of a federal high level waste facility at Hanford. He was impressed with the interest of the local community in having the facility and feels that the dry desert climate with a 3-5" annual rainfall, as well as the community's long history of successful dealing with the nuclear industry make it a likely site for development.

Rep. Mills was favorably impressed with the Hanford operation, and stated that he and Senator Ed Erwin will work to continue Maine's use of the facility.

and Bryant Pond, and 12 one-evening programs on issues relating to parenting. The one-evening programs will be offered in cooperation with the district schools and will be held in a variety of locations, including Andover, Bethel, Telstar, and Woodstock. The Parenting Project has involved cooperative plan ning between Adult and Community Education, SAD #44 administrators, Oxford County Community Services, the Family Support Team, the Bethel Area Health Center, and the TAP group.

Adult Education directors from around the state spent three days at a directors' academy held at Sunday River Ski Resort on Aug. 6-8. A special feature of the academy was the opportunity to attend the sunrise seminars and National Training Labs in Bethel, and the keynote address by Charles Seashore, of NTL. Attending the academy, in addition to Mrs. Newell, was Randall Bennett, of the SAD #44 program, who participated in a workshop on the external credit option program. Mr. Bennett has written 14 curriculum packets that are in use in many programs throughout Maine, and will be conducting training sessions in the use of these materials as part of Maine's staff development effort this year.

The SAD #44 Adult and Community Education office will be open Aug. 19-22 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., with the secretary, Nena Sargent, in the office to provide coverage. Cathy Newell will be away until Aug. 27.

Tri-Town Rescue

Tri-Town's annual picnic is Sunday, Aug. 25, at Twitchell Pond starting at 1 p.m. Food is planned for 5 p.m.

Tri-Town would like to thank everyone who helped at the scene of the West Sumner accident Sunday afternoon. Bystanders helped greatly with calming down and treatment of the seven young people who were hurt.

The next training is scheduled for Aug. 28 at 7 p.m., at Ledgeview Memorial Home, with Sgt. Jim Miclon, Oxford County Sheriff's Department, presenting information on preserving the crime scene and protecting one's self while providing needed first aid. He plans to show a police academy film on what evidence is important and how to protect it.

The annual Community Birthday Calendar sales are now underway. A Tri-Town member should be contacting you for your order within the next week.

Safety Tip of the Week

Children can innocently swallow anything that is in sight. It is especially important to keep dangerous or harmful substances out of their reach. One notorious mistake is saving leftover gas or paint in food containers, like soda bottles.

The poison control number should be available for all who have small children around. The toll-free number can be called 24 hours a day for information on what to do in case of poisoning (1+I.D. No. 800-442-6305).

Woodburning increases use of forest resources

From the beginning of this century, up until about 1950, wood harvest levels were quite low relative to the standing inventory of wood in Maine. However, wood harvest has nearly tripled since 1960, with most of this increase having occurred since 1970.

Major factors contributing to this change have been steady increases in pulp wood harvest and an explosion in the harvest of fuel wood since the oil crisis of 1973. Today, almost as much wood is harvested in Maine for fuel as for pulp production. Fifteen years ago, the fuel wood market was almost non-existent.

From a statewide perspective, Maine is not overcutting its forests...yet. Annual average timber harvest is closer to annual growth for many species than it was a decade ago. At the present time, overall wood harvest is about 60 percent of growth. However, there is substantial variation in this balance from region to region and species to species. Of particular note:

- Over the past decade, harvest in Washington County was more than twice growth (largely due to spruce budworm).
- Harvest also exceeded growth in Penobscot County, while in Piscataquis County harvest was in equilibrium with growth.
- Beech and balsam fir were the only two major species where harvest exceeded growth over the past decade. Disease and insect damage were largely responsible for the slowdown in growth.

Over the next 40 years, harvest of fuel wood is expected to rise to two or three times its current level, due primarily to the construction and operation of industrial wood chip boilers for steam generation and power production.

Pulp wood harvest is also expected to increase steadily, but at a much lower rate. Little if any increase is anticipated in the overall harvest of saw timber.

From a supply perspective, the most prominent concern today is the future availability of spruce and fir. The uneven age distribution of the spruce-fir resource, due to the spruce budworm's cycle, may result in a shortfall sometime in the early part of the next century.

As with all such projections there are many unknowns. For example, if oil prices rise and industries emerge that use wood as a chemical feedstock, demand could expand. If the development of electronic media capabilities results in a decline in the use of paper, demand could drop.

Using the best available projections, it appears that harvest levels will approach annual tree growth within the next 20 years. This point would be reached earlier if there were a major decline in growth rate, which might result from air pollution or other environmental factors. However, given the relationship of annual growth and harvest to overall wood inventory, even if wood harvest is substantially above growth by the year 2000, it would take a considerable additional period of time before overall inventory begins to substantially decline.

The steady general maturing of forest stands that has occurred throughout this century due to light harvesting pressure will begin to taper off as harvest levels approach annual growth. This will be particularly apparent in spruce-fir forests as a result of the combined influece of spruce budworm and increased harvest levels.

The above article is a summary of a portion of a study done by the Natural Resources Council of Maine, an independent citizens' conservation organization, with headquarters in Augusta.

FAVOR DEFENSE CUTS

Amtrak received the cold shoulder from responding taxpayers, with 85 percent favoring a move to eliminate the $574 million subsidy on Amtrak fares.

The Small Business Administration's outlays of $1.35 billion should be trim med by $900 million, according to 67 percent of those responding to the poll. And federal grants for urban development should be cut by $88 million, according to 79 percent of the respondees.

There should also be a two-year moratorium on new spending for federal housing assistance, for an estimated savings of $500 million, according to 72 percent of the respondees.

Economic Development Assistance should be cut out altogether (for an estimated savings of $225 million), said 78 percent of the respondees. And 77 percent favored a reduction in federal employment and training programs, to save $1.1 billion.

Most local taxpayers (73 percent) were in favor of a constitutional amendment mandating balanced budgets, while 77 percent were in favor of giving the President the power to veto specific items in the Congress' budget, rather than vetoing entire bills, as presently required.

The Citizen, last week, asked Rep. Snowe for her own views on the various budget-cutting measures, but by press time her responses had not yet been received.

Mrs. Jennie Jones of Lewiston, Gail and Larry Gavelin, Lauren, Vaun and Ross of Hope, R.I., were recent guests of Mrs. Muriel Butters. They attended the birthday celebration of Edna York on Saturday, Aug. 10, and on Sunday they all attended the Bean reunion in Albany.

Gretchen Dock and Martha Mitchell, of Jamaica Plain, Mass., were weekend guests recently of the Norman Docks.

Andrew Selee, Julia Harrington and Meg Fullerton of Washington, D.C., are visiting with Kim Seashore.

Yvonne Morin of St. Petersburg, Fla., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Annie Kimball at the Bethel House.

The Carons spent four days in Danvers, Mass., recently. John's mom was finishing up her five week stay there. She was housesitting while her brother and sister-in-law, Zoel and Lydia Sylvester were scouting retirement locations in Arizona and California. We had a great time using the pool, gardening a very-over-grown garden and picking enough apples for a couple pies. Jaime had a ball playing with two poodles, Mitzi and Nanny and two cats, Ghangi and Sheba. While the dogs didn't seem to mind Jaime's constant "busyness," I think the cats breathed a sigh of relief when we left. Although we ventured out to see "Back To The Future" at the movies, we pretty much stayed around trying to keep cool.

We also made a trip to Screw Auger Falls for an afternoon by the water. It was cool and restful and we felt refreshed as we waded a bit in the cold water. We met Mark Wight up there. He was "ranger-ing" and doing one of the many jobs—painting birches. Don't laugh, we watched him paint four birches! It seems some overnight campers pulled the bark off a good portion of the tree. What a sad thing for someone to do. It takes years to grow and in just a few minutes man strips the life from the tree. As I child I was taught to respect nature. Does anyone out there care anymore? Such needless destruction of lands that belong to all of us.

By the time this column reaches you this year's Gatlin concerts will be over...sadly. There is nothing quite like the thrill of a live concert. And when the show is good—and Larry's always are—it leaves you wanting more. I remember last year's concert in Warwick, R.I., how we sadly waved goodbye to "the guys" as they went by in the bus. It's like saying goodbye to dear friends whom you won't see again for another year. This time next week we will be "on the road again" toward home. I'm sure I'll have some crazy things to report. At least one of the folks who is going with us isn't quite sure what I'll be getting her into, but she's sure she'll have a time to remember for a long time. So, all you folks out there...be prepared!

ROCKY AND BUNNY SWAIN celebrated their 40th anniversary recently, in West Paris.

SWAINS CELEBRATE 40th

Rocky and Bunny Swain celebrated their 40th anniversary recently, with a surprise party at the home of their daughter, Diane Todd, in West Paris.

Over 50 guests gathered from California, Massachusetts and around the state to honor the former Bethel couple. The Swains were married by Rev. James MacKillop in Richmond, Me., on July 21, 1945.

They have lived in Champlain, N.Y., since 1971. They have three daughters, all present at the celebration: Charlene Maginnis, of Lawrence, Mass.; Diane Todd, of West Paris, and Leah Desmett, of North Andover.

Mildred Wescott, Mrs. Swain's mother, wrote a toast for the couple, which was read by their daughter, Mrs. Maginnis. The cake was decorated by Sharon Culbert. The refreshments were catered by Ranger's Market.

A Commnuity Club meeting was held at the hall Aug. 14. Voted to serve the next supper on Aug. 31 from 5-6p.m. with the regular menu and ginger cake and real whipped cream. It was decided to see about paint or stain for the outside of the hall when it gets cooler.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher enjoyed their day at the Vatchers' first reunion held at Harold Parker State Park in Andover, Mass., with 70 people in attendance. Joe's mother, Fannie Vatcher was the oldest person present and three young ladies each eight months old tied for the youngest persons present.

Swimming was enjoyed also horseshoes, croquet games and soccer. Each family took their own gas grill and what food they wanted. Watermelons, corn on the cob, moose burgers, hot dogs, you name it, they had it, except coffee.

The younger generation had never been to a reunion before so they decided it would be nice to gather again next year at the same place on the second Saturday in August. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Vatcher of Lynchburg, Va., came the greatest distance. On Monday, Everett and wife journeyed on to Nova Scotia for two weeks. Joe and Eveline had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson Sr. and it was cooler coming home in the evening.

Callers at Lawrences: Arnold Coffin, Ruby Coffin, and James Edgar, Heather Mason and Timmy, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Records and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card.

Hope all the schoolchildren have their school shopping under control. Won't all the moms be glad when the school bells ring?

Once again we had only a few drops of rain while some places had showers.

Have a nice week and keep cool.

Doris Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penley, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Albert Downing were guests of Lena Dean and her great granddaughter, Darcy Robertson, for a cookout Thursday eveing at Lena's camp. Darcy was co-hostess and helped great grandma entertain. She did a fine job.

Aug. 15 and where has the time all gone! It flies by so fast one can't keep up with it or remember all that has happened. I dread the thought of the coming cold and wish I could prepare to go south as so many do but can't so will prepare for it as well as possible right here.

Wynona, my daughter was at a work shop at Sunday River last week and had Kariann, the baby, with her but it got to be a little too much to try to concentrate and take care of the baby too, Grandma got to care for her some while her mother took in the work sessions to learn all she could about being a director of adult education. This will be her first year at the job and the first year that Auburn has offered such a course so she need to learn all she could. Last Thursday was her last morning for the work shop and then home to work waiting for her there. However, before she left, she left, she took me shopping and she did a little, also. In the evening, Peggy, Russell and I went to Greenwood to visit Doris Hayes, our aunt, and found her two sisters, Verna and Lenora, there with her. We are always glad to hear that someone is with her there on the old farm. It must get a little lonely there by herself, but she drives and goes places quite a lot, for which we are glad. Her friends keep in touch each day and that makes it nice, too. We had a nice visit with all three of the ladies and I can't remember when I last saw Aunt Dot's two sisters.

Peggy and Rusell left early Friday morning to meet Laura in Bethel to go to Ashland, N.H. She wanted to go to see folks there and wanted company and had it as her daughter, Lorene Cobb, and children of the Gore Road, Bryant Pond, went with them. They all went in Laura'a van and had a good time. I had an appointment in town to keep so didn't go, but enjoyed the day by visiting an old friend for a little while before keeping my appointment.

Saturday was another busy day as I made some of my special salad mixture then typed cards inviting friends to come to our Grange for Lecturers' noight, Aug. 24, and hope they all come, Russell brought in some string beans to fix for lunch, finished a doily I had been working on and started the dress for Kariann's christening on Aug. 18.

Did more sewing on Sunday and got baby's dress all done except the zipper. After lunch, Peggy, Russell and I decided we would go to the concert at the meeting house in East Bethel and did. It was a wonderful program and we enjoyed it immensely. Saw a lot of folks we knew and had a little chat with this one or that one, so it was a good afternoon. Bothered my allergies some with the fresh paint, flowers and silage smell from outside but was glad I went, just the same.

Sewed quite a lot on Monday and in the evening, Grace called to say there were blueberries for us at her house. I went to get them and when I got back, there was a pan full of blackberries waiting for me. They sure looked good and tasted good, too. My son Wendall had brought them while I was up at Grace's getting the blueberries. Russell helped me and we got them taken care of brfore going to bed.

Went to North Bridgton on Tuesday and got my first shot for rag weed. We have finally found out what we thought it looks like and Russell has mowed down all he could find. Have been having trouble breathing because of it, I guess. Sewed some more on Wednesday and got the baby's dress all done, also one for myself. Feel as though I had accomplished quite a lot. Canned five pints of string beans the other day, too.

Got a little news from a neighbor and was glad to get it. Elsie Libby of Sebago visited the Lovejoys last week.

Archie and Allen Lovejoy joined Franklin Lovejoy for a weekend of fishing in northern Maine. I'm sure they had an enjoyable time.

Got a washing going so will call this enough for this time and wish you could all see the dahlias that Russell has out front. They are special. One is pink with the outer edges white and the other is a deep maroon with the outer edges of the petals white. A beautiful sight for anyone's eyes. Take care and hope the rag weed doesn't bother any of you.

Greenwood City

By COLISTA MORGAN

A summer road enticed me to stray, as I did this week. The shadows lured me with their coolness. Here and there I found a wayside brook, but very low with water.

All along the roads were the Joe-Pye-weeds. They are nearly as common as the goldenrods. They give variety to the intense hues which herald the coming of autumn. Within the goldenrods torches of yellow the aster are putting on their blue-flowered plumes. In most places the scent of crushed mint followed my footsteps. Jewelweed flowers, lovely yellow, were abundant by the ditches. At home my hillside is a mass of pink jewels. How the bees like them, as they bury themselves out of sight in the blossoms. These flowers are also known as Touch-Me-Nots. This refers to the seed-pods, which burst open with such violence when touched, as to project their seeds to a comparative great distance. A few late daisies bloomed with the black-eyed susans.

Each path brings a wonder I haven't seen before. There was a kaleidoscope whose multicolored form fell into a rich variety of patterns, scented with evergreens and hay. The blooming of these flowers, the sunlight on the trees, like the kindness of a friend, brought numerous joys to me.

It's fun to walk or ride a country road that stretches far and sometimes seems to meet the sky.

Too often we overlook the familiar in our reach for a far star. We should sometimes pause to enjoy the beauty near at hand. Every season is fresh with a new discovery.

My greatest enjoy was the finding of the purple fringed orchis, as fragile as foam, but usually lasts a long time. Then this rare bloom rests until it awakens another summer.

This summer is fast going where all summers go and will not return in the same dress again.

The sisters of Doris Hayes, Lenora Waterhouse and Verna Libby, came home with Doris on Wednesday and stayed until Sunday then returned to their home in Falmouth. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cole of Raymond visited Doris on Sunday. The twin daughters and a son of Duane Hayes, West Paris, were also visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis were in Freeport on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Curtis visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis on Sunday.

David Holt, Dexter, visited his parents, his wife and daughter over the weekend. Sally and Mary are visiting for another week or more.

Ann Holt leaves with her aunt, Dolly Verrill, on Wednesday, for a few days in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. John Betts had for visitors for a few days their daughter and family, Conway, N.H.

Ernest Mundt, Bethel, called on us on Friday.

By KATHY BENNETT

Here it is the end of August and I'm in a panic. The kids go to school in two weeks and Dave leaves for the Air Force. Hope everyone gets ready in time!

On Aug. 25 there will be no church service at the Albany Church as West Bethel has invited us there. Those wishing to attend are asked to bring a picnic lunch. We are getting new hymnals at the church if anyone would like to buy one to give in memory of, or in honor of someone you may call me at 824-2797 for details.

Recent callers here have been Cheryl Millett and daughters, Chet and Betty Adams and granddaughter, Melissa, Jeff Barton, Kim Sweetser, Margaret Barton, Jeff Foss and wife and baby, Scott Dyer, Robby Mattison, Mark Barton, Elton Cole, Megan and Maire.

Recent visitors at the Barton Farm have been Karen and Andy Jacobs, Grampa Frank Barton, and Randy Seavey.

The Albany softbll team has made the top four in the Fryeburg league and will be playing the #1 team soon for final position on Sunday Night. Let's hope they can go all the way to the top!

The next supper will be Aug. 22, at 5:30 p.m. Remember this is the last Thursday night supper of the season. There will be another supper Sept. 14 at 5 p.m.

Notes from the Bethel Chamber of Commerce

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday, Aug. 20, at the home of Executive Director Rick Whithey. The Maine Guide to Winter, Shop Local and area placemat advertising projects were discussed.

It was decided to provide and staff an area information table at the Blue Mountain Arts and Crafts Festival at Sunday River and poll the travelling public to determine if an area Foliage Festival Week may be feasible for next year.

John Bayerlein will be in charge of locating an in-town site for an information board.

A disclaimer was placed in The Citizen notifying area residents that the coupon book now being sold in the area is not under the sponsorship of the Chamber.

Bill Riley will represent Bethel at the Eastern States Exposition in September in Massachusetts and selectively distribute Bethel booklets.

Attendance at the Boston Ski Show Bethel booth will be voluntary and information brochures are needed for distribution. Sunday River and The Bethel Inn will co-ordinate the show efforts this year.

A discussion centered on the need for communtiy awareness of Chamber members' businesses and industries. Ideas of open house tours and a video production were suggested. The Chamber plans to meet with SAD #44 Adult and Community Education to discuss this further.

Notes from Woodstock Historical Society

Here is an excerpt from a Civil War diary of a Maine man, John West Haley. It comes from the book "The Rebel Yell and the Yankee Hurrah," by Ruth L. Silliker.

August 6-22, 1862

"During the summer of 1862 the North at last removed its gloves and a call was issued for 600,000 troops. It was under this muster that the 17th Maine was raised, and in Company 1 of that regiment several companions and I signed up. Our enlisting was like many other things in this world: one started and the rest thoughtlessly followed, like sheep over a fence, until six of us had enlisted from one class in Sunday School. Speaking for myself, I had no inclination for the business, but once committed in a momentary spasm of enthusiasm to serve under certain circumstances, which I never expected to occur, I found myself face to face with the alternative of going or showing a white liver by backing out. I decided to do as I had agreed and enlisted for 'three years unless sooner discharged.' Shot or starved should have been added to the contract.

"Given time for reflection, I had a thousand fears and misgivings, I moved in a dazed sort of way and couldn't believe I had done such a thing. Naturally timid and shrinking, it seemed impossible that I had, even for a moment, thought seriously of going into the service. I consoled myself with the thought that I should, if I lived, have a chance to see some of the country and might witness a battle, which I greatly desired, only I wished to be a safe distance from it—a mile at least."

CCD CLASSES AT OUR LADY OF THE SNOWS

Adult supervision will be on the church grounds from 2:30 on so that those coming early will not be there alone. Any questions can be answered by calling Linda Caron at 824-2148, Gemma Dreher at 836-3382 or Peg Wheeler at 824-2659.

SUNSET REBEKAH LODGE

A CABARET TRIBUTE TO THE BROADWAY MUSICAL

Over seventy years of the best of Broadway Musicals are packed into a wonderful Cabaret-style review at The Bethel Inn every Thursday and Sunday evening through August 29.

Join us for dinner before the show or dessert, coffee and other appropriate refreshments during the show in the South Dining Room. Performances are a little over an hour, depending on how many encores the audience wants to sing. Both the Thursday and Sunday shows begin at 9:00 p.m.

The Cast includes Bob Elliott and Pixie Williams of Locke Mills, Lois Leckey of West Peru, Ken Goddard of Hanover and Kevin Ronkko of Norway. They will perform more than two dozen show stoppers from Broadway's finest, spanning a period from the early 1900's to the present. You'll recognize all your favorites and, if you want to add your voice to the informal cabaret atmosphere, please do so.

Our normal dinner menu with a dozen or more tempting entrees and homemade desserts will await you on our screened-in dining veranda or elegant main dining room. Or, join us just for the show and coffee, dessert or other refreshments during the show.

Reservations are recommended.
Cover charge for the show is $4.

NOTE OF THANKS

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to all those who helped in any way to make my surprise "75th year" birthday party a success. It was truly heart-warming to see so many friends and relatives seated in the Albany Church when I walked through the door. My apologies for being so late—if I had only known! A very special thank-you goes to my lovely daughters, Betty and Julie, who devoted so much time in planning the affair, and to my daugher-in-law, Marie, who conceived the idea of a family quilt and did such a beautiful job in putting it together.

I cannot find the words to adequately express my thanks for all the pretty cards, lovely gifts, and personal messages I received, but please know that I deeply appreciate your thoughfulness. You made that day a treasured memory.

God bless you always,
Edna York

It's that time of year when your local Rotary Club must start gathering items for our annual auction. The proceeds of all of our efforts go to support such projects as the Senior Citizen Xmas Dinner, Xmas Food Baskets for the needy, student scholarships, support of the local health facilities, summer camp tuitions, area athletes expenses, disabled individuals needs, etc. If you're cleaning the garage, attic, or cellar, let us get rid of those unneeded items for you. The telephone company has been working on Back Street and two telephones have been installed.

Christine Murphy has resigned her jobs as town clerk, tax collector, treasurer and registrar of voters. Laurie Bergeron has been chosen to serve as town clerk and registrar, and Rose Scott will serve as treasurer and tax collector.

The Wells family spent a few days at their home in town.

Alan Fraser and Doris Fraser spent a few days at their friend's home on Back Street.

Our sympathies to the Fuller families and Clayton and other family of Winona Davis. I've always had a soft spot in my heart for this lady because of her kindness and help to my mother during Dad's last long illness. Her husband, Mose, used to be mail carrier and had a dry sense of humor. One day while waiting for the mail he was teasing a young teen-ager who had just hired out for the summer and was not understanding his humor. So Mose said—"The cobwebs are thick this morning, Jennie," and the girl quickly said, "Oh, I saw them out there in the front window, but I didn't think it was my place to sweep them." This happened before my time but the enjoyment and chuckles lasted until I was old enough to share.

It has been a long summer hoping my physical problems would vanish, but finally accepting the fact that they wouldn't without help. Hopefully major surgery last week has resolved everything. I wish to thank everyone for the visits, cards, telephone calls, inquiries and prayers. I have a new awareness of how much these can mean.

We experienced a severe thunderstorm Thursday. Some reported lightning balls at the window. Here it buzzed the telephone several times and seemed to encircle the house. The hummingbirds flew about and fed at the feeders in spite of the driving rain, but the dog hid under the bed.

Bethel Emergency Ambulance and Rescue Service

Once again the BEARS want to thank Outward Bound. This time it's for hiking the Hastings Trail Thursday morning to help bring our patient down. What a way to wake up!

Our thanks also go the National Guard men who helped at the accident Sunday afternoon. Your prompt cooperation saved a lot of time in getting the second unit dispatched.

Last reminder: Auto extrication is this coming Sunday, 9 a.m., at Gaudreaus'. Wear old clothes and come prepared for almost anything as we crawl into old cars.

Don't forget the CPR class starting tonight and finishing Thursday. See our announcement on the front page.

There will be a board of directors meeting on Monday, Aug. 26, 6 p.m., at the bus garage. Will all board members make a special effort to be there?

September is coming and with it, the beginning of a new Advanced First Aid class. This is the course to take if you want to join the ambulance service. We are always looking for new people. Call Arlene (Arlene 824-2744), Will (824-3287), or Laura (824-2584) and sign up. Your help will be greatly appreciated.

Safety Tip

A BB gun is not a toy. It's a weapon that can do serious damage. The "bb" can put an eye out, resulting in blindness. Just because it doesn't penetrate the skin like a "real" bullet, doesn't mean it can't cause internal injuries. If you feel that your son or daughter must have one of these "play guns," teach them to treat it with the respect due any weapon. Never allow them to aim it at other children, even supposedly unloaded. Set up a target away from playing areas and always, always supervise your youngster when he/she practices. Supervision doesn't mean simply to be outside—somewhere—but to watch what's happening. Don't burden your child with the guilt of accidently shooting someone else, or themselves.

WEEKEND ACCIDENTS

The impact spun the Plymouth completely around, totalling the vehicle, while the station wagon continued on for another 100 yards before coming to rest on the eastbound shoulder of Rte. 2.

The driver of the Plymouth, Christopher Robinson, 21, of West Paris, was taken to Stephens Memorial by Bethel Ambulance, where he was treated for facial cuts at Stephens Memorial and released.

His passenger, Sarah Parsons, 16, was unhurt.

Passengers in the station wagon told investigating officer Harold Savage, of the Maine State Police, that the driver, Warren Hart, 48, of the Steam Mill section of Bethel, apparently had a seizure and could not avoid colliding with the smaller car. Cpl. Savage said no charges would be filed. Mr. Hart was admitted to Stephens Memorial, where he was x-rayed for possible back and neck injuries. He was released Monday.

Tony Merrill, 4, a passenger in the station wagon, was treated for facial injuries and released.

The first medics to arrive at the scene of the accident were National Guardsmen, who had been conducting firing exercises at the gravel pit at Bob Brook. They hurried over to the road as soon as they heard the crash, one of them said.

On Saturday night, Michael Smith, 22, of West Paris, demolished his 1985 car when he lost control of it heading north on Rte. 26 near Ledgeview Memorial Home. He was arrested for OUI. His passenger, Michael Levesque, 25, of West Paris, was treated and released at Stephens Memorial.

NOTICE

To all My Avon Customers:

Due to having too much faith in my fellowman, I left my Avon products unprotected in my car and someone stole them. Please be patient until I can get in touch with you. I also suggest to people in the area that you check the identification of anyone offering to sell you Avon products outright. All Avon representatives carry cards issued by the company. However if they were doing their Christmas shopping early, I'm sure they are happy with what they got.
